CONVERSATION:

INTERVIEW

A: Hello Rose, thanks for coming today.

B: You're welcome.

A: Now, why don't you start by telling me about your employment background.

B: Sure. I have been a Marketing professional for the last ten years. I Studied Marketing at University and have worked in various marketing roles.

A: What would you say your strengths are?

B: My strengths are in creating systems and processes to get the job done quickly and manage contractors and staff efficiently. This helps save time and money for my employers.

A: What would you say are your weaknesses?

B: My weakness is using statistical software. I find it difficult to navigate.

A: Why do you think you would be a good addition to this team?

B: I am a very hard worker, and I am a team player. I believe in producing high-quality work and focusing on getting the job done. I have the technical skills and the experience required to work well with your team and deliver results.

A: Why did you leave your last job?

B: I decided to leave my last job because I wanted the opportunity to grow and excel with a high performing team, and I felt that I have gone as far as I could with my previous employer.

A: Where do you want to be in 3 years?

B: I want to be working for your company in a leadership role.

A: Would you like to ask anything about company?

B: What is the vision for the company for the next 12 months?

A: The company is in an aggressive growth phase. The focus is to increase market share by 20%.

B: That's very interesting. Those are all of the questions that I have.

A: Thanks, Rose. We are interviewing more candidates this week and will contact you by Friday to let you know the outcome of this interview.

B: Thank you for the opportunity to interview for the position.

A: You're welcome, Rose. See you again.
